Brachioplasty Compression Garments

Why should I use a medical compression garment?

It is essential that the compression garment worn during the recovery period provides targeted compression, to reduce swelling and to help shape the arms and form a pleasing contour.

Compression garments need important features like flat, non-marking seams, inner panels that provide the targeted compression necessary during healing, and no labels or anything that will irritate your skin during extended wear.

You will be advised to purchase compression garments prior to surgery. If required, my nurse can size you in clinic and advise you as to which garments to purchase. You can either buy these from the Hospital before surgery, or alternatively, we can provide you with the supplier details, should you wish to obtain your own.

I would recommend that you obtain 2 garments, as you will want one to wash and one to wear. The garment needs to be worn day and night for 6 weeks after surgery, although you can remove them for washing. Veronique is a market leader in post-surgery compression garments and very much recommended.
